Job Overview

Reporting to the Logistics Manager, as the Class 1 Driver, Rooftop Delivery, you are responsible for delivering building materials to customer homes or construction sites. You load, transport and unload materials manually.

Your day-to-day responsibilities will include:

- Providing excellent customer service to all customers as a representative of the company.
- Loading trucks in a safe and timely manner, minimizing down time in the yard.
- Verifying accuracy of shipping documents.
- Delivering materials via the most efficient route to remain on schedule.
- Adhering to Star's Safety Programs and standard operating procedures at all times.
- Keeping equipment clean and in good operating condition, including completion of daily pre-trip inspections and site assessments.
- Handling relations with the public, customers, suppliers, or others with tact and diplomacy.
- Planning, organizing and visualizing materials in logical order when loading trucks as to avoid material breakage and maximize the load.
- Problem solving and decision making as part of day-to-day tasks.
- Using iPad apps for safety, inspections and proof of delivery (Site Docs, Bistrack).
- Operating delivery units with courtesy and according to provincial regulations.

Work Conditions

You primarily work outdoors on job sites during regular business hours. Work is mobile with exposure to potential accidents or occupational hazards as well as dealing with inclement weather, heights, dust and noise. Occasional weekend or evening work may be required. Actions taken and decisions made directly impact the safety and health of others. Overtime may be required during the busy season.

About Us

Star Building Materials is an independent, wholly owned division of Qualico. Since 1958, Star Building Materials has sourced, manufactured, and supplied quality building materials to builders, developers, renovators, and homeowners. It is our mission to innovate within the construction industry, exploring new methods to help you reduce waste, increase efficiency, and manage project costs.

None of this would be possible without people. We hire only the most forward-thinking, experienced, and passionate staff to serve your building needs. We care deeply about the quality of the products and service you receive, and we invest in our relationships both with our employees and our customers. We aim to reach beyond minimum standards of safety and environmental concerns.

We serve our clients with some of the most innovative building solutions available, including framing and finishing materials, engineered wood floor systems, trusses, drywall, insulation, and a wide selection of related supplies. To learn more, click here.
